

Create a New User

Creating a new user

Only the user logged on as the administrator can create the new users. The administrator must have the authorization to configure the objects of the User type.

To create a new user, use the following procedure:

1. Open the selection window in the D2000 CNF process.
2. Select the type  User in the list of object types.
3. In the list of objects, select a user, who will be used as a template.
4. Click on  - New object.
5. Enter the name of the new user in the dialog box new object.
6. Set the user's parameters in the configuration dialog box.

Note: Points 2 and 3 are optional. If a new user is created according to already existing user (by copying), the log-on password (even if empty) must be entered into the new user.
