

GetUserObjName

%GetUserObjName function

Function The function gets back a name of the user currently logged in.

Declaration

```
TEXT %GetUserObjName( )
```

Parameters

No parameters.

Return value

The name of the user currently logged in.

Description

In the D2000 HI process, the return value is the name of the user currently logged in, or empty string, if the user is not logged in.

In the D2000 Event process and during RPC procedures executing, the name is determined by scrip that is called.

Related pages:

ESL extended functions

Function Arguments - Types