

Archive Configuration

Creating a New Archive

Right after creating an application or selecting an item from the context menu of the application New Archive, it is possible to create a new archive. The following dialog box appears:

After setting and confirming the appropriate option, a dialog box for configuring a new Sybase, PostgreSQL, or Oracle archive will be displayed.

Editing an already existing archive

Editing the parameters of an already existing D2000 Archiv process is possible after selecting the Edit item from the archive context menu.

Note: Edit does not allow you to change all the parameters.

Related pages:

Application Management

Parameters for Archive